

ACM OA Workflow

The GSSI has adhered to the new ACM Transformative contract through CARE CRUI.

The contract conditions are as follow:

- Eligible Articles: articles which are written by Eligible Authors and which are editorially accepted for publication in the ACM Digital Library with an acceptance date during the term of the contract, and which are of one of the following article types:
 - a) Research articles
 - b) Review articles
 - c) Conference or proceedings papers
 - d) Short Papers
 - e) Technical Note / Note
 - f) Tutorial
 - g) Case Study
 - h) Interview
 - i) Survey
- Eligible Author: cumulatively, a corresponding author (i) who is “Affiliated” with an Institution, namely Corresponding Authors who correctly list themselves as affiliated with the Institution during the article submission process. Corresponding Authors shall be deemed affiliated with the Institution only and exclusively if the email address they provide to ACM during the article submission process is part of the list of domain names provided by the Institution through CRUI; (ii) who have signed the current open access publishing agreement used at the Publisher to publish an article under Open Access in ACM Digital Library. Other systems for considering Corresponding Authors affiliated may be identified during the term, which will be agreed between CRUI and ACM.
- The articles are published using the Creative Commons license CC BY 4.0, in the version in force on the date of signature of this contract (<https://creativecommons.org/licenses/by/4.0/legalcode>).
- The publication process will be totally managed by the publisher, who will directly authorize the authors who submit their articles with the email domain of the Institution of affiliation. For retrospective conversion of articles published since May 1, 2022, the publisher will contact the authors directly.
